Not illustrated. 1917 Excerpt: .cultivation to which occasional contact with the faculty exposed him, He learned that the most important thing in life is that the score on November 20 should be 16-0 and not 0-16. And the next most important thing is to get by with a C in at least three out of five courses. He learned what loyalty to an educational institution is, To smoke cigarettes on the bleachers and yell at last practice. He learned that the first and great commandment is, Thou shalt bet on thy teams and refrain from independent thinking and look with a skeptic eye on Phi Beta Kappa. Thus did college instil in George a sense of proportion, A sense of permanent values. So he went out into the world, And he said, I ll lie low till it comes my way, Then I ll show em. And it came his way. He could talk sports and stocks and drinks and motor-cars with the best of the brokers, And he got promoted in the bank because he had belonged to Beta Veta Delta and played left tackle. To-day he has three limousines to his father s one, And a town house And a yacht And a place at Tuxedo And a camp in the Adirondacks with twenty guest-rooms and thirty baths. And when the application blanks for the boat-race come around He puts fifty dollars on the crew, And with the words, It is n t the studies that count in...
