Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Conservation of Natural Resources: Meeting of Engineers, March 24th, 1909 I am very sorry to say, Ladies and Gentlemen, that I am a substitute. Mr. Bates, President of the American Society of Civil Engineers, wishes to express his regret, regret that I know you all appreciate, that sickness at home obliges him to be absent. I can only feel confusion at having to fill his chair, and yet not fill his place. It is a, pleasure to us all as engineers of different schools to meet in a common cause, for it brings home the proof of our mutual dependence. Every advance in technical science and practice is made through the co-operation of two or more of the branches of the engineering fraternities. The miner and metallurgist are always more or less helpless without the aid of the mechanical engineer, and now both must call in the electrical engineer to their assistance if engaged in work of any magnitude. In one endeavor, however, we are all united, that is, in trying to utilize to the utmost Nature s resources; for our business is to handle Nature s raw material, and convert it into more or less refined and specialized compounds and forms. In so doing, we are learning more and more how to avail ourselves of Nature s forces. By the very virtue of our work as we study the properties of matter, we are driven to employ as little material and as little energy - whether our own or Nature s - as will serve our purpose, if for no other reason than that both material and energy cost money. Ever since the great...
