Brand New Book  Print on Demand .GWM is a Ground-Water Management Process for the U.S. Geological Survey modular three-dimensional ground-water model, MODFLOW-2000. GWM uses a response-matrix approach to solve several types of linear, nonlinear, and mixed-binary linear ground-water management formulations. Each management formulation consists of a set of decision variables, an objective function, and a set of constraints. Three types of decision variables are supported by GWM: flow-rate decision variables, which are withdrawal or injection rates at well sites; external decision variables, which are sources or sinks of water that are external to the flow model and do not directly affect the state variables of the simulated ground-water system (heads, streamflows, and so forth); and binary variables, which have values of 0 or 1 and are used to define the status of flow-rate or external decision variables. Flow-rate decision variables can represent wells that extend over one or more model cells and be active during one or more model stress periods; external variables also can be active during one or more stress periods. A single objective function is supported by GWM, which can be...
